Financial wellbeing

“Supporting employees with debt and other financial issues during covid-19”

For many employees the COVID-19 outbreak is as much a financial-based issue as it is a public health emergency. We are seeing on a daily basis jobs being cut, lay-offs, redundancies, closures and businesses trimming costs to survive.

Add to this mix mortgage holidays and payment deferrals (offered at the start of the pandemic), and we have a potent concoction of financial uncertainty for many employees.

This webinar aims to outline to employers what they can do to assist an employee in financial distress. It will cover:-

- The impact of Covid-19 on household finances
- How employees get into debt
- The work of a debt counsellor
- How to recognise the signs an employee is struggling financially
- Sources of advice/support/guidance

DATE: Thursday 12th November 2020
