

Northern Ireland
Safety Group
 Promoting Occupational Safety & Health

What members say about our activities

"I find the monthly meetings an invaluable source of information for the H&S professional with the topics covered relevant to the latest legislative changes and safety innovations. The meetings are also a great way to meet other H&S professionals, form contacts and obtain advice. Plus attendance counts towards your IOSH CPD points tally!. Keep up the good work."

Trevor Forde, Health & Safety Manager, Ulster Carpets.

"My colleagues and I were thrilled that John Campbell, our Building Services Manager, won the John Gordon Award. As well as recognising John's invaluable input into Health and Safety matters the Award acknowledges the importance that everyone at Northern Ireland's Premier Theatre places on Health and Safety. It's an accolade we're very proud to have won." Ian Wilson, Chief Executive, Grand Opera House.

"We were delighted to have been awarded the inaugural Occupational Health Award and consider it a major achievement for the Company. Entering was tough, but we found the experience a very good way of helping us to improve the overall Health & Safety standards within our organisation. I'd encourage any Safety Group member who's serious about safety to enter the Awards" Greg Livingstone, Health & Safety Engineer, Montupet (UK) Ltd

"I have attended a number of conferences on the subject of driving for work in the past and can confidently say that Tuesday's one was head and shoulders above any of the others. The speakers were excellent, clearly on top of their briefs and each speaker delivered great presentations. The trade stands were very focussed and relevant to the subject under discussion. Well done for delivering an excellent Conference" - Robert Sparkes, Safety Coordinator,

Commissioners of Irish Lights