Event overview

The IOSH South Wales Branch is delighted to be joining forces once again with South Wales Safety Groups Alliance for its fourth annual conference and exhibition, that it's organising through its member groups.

This year's conference, chaired by the Head of Field Operations, Wales and the Marches, HSE, complements the HSE's Helping GB Work Well campaign, and concentrates on sharing good practice. Martin Temple, Chair, HSE Board will give the keynote address and will be followed by talks on managing health and safety with a diverse workforce, working at height, preventing slips, trips and falls, enforcement of fire risk assessments and finally driving up health and safety performance across the supply chain.

What's in it for you?

There is a role to play for everyone who has a stake or interest in improving safety, health and wellbeing in the workplace. This conference will help you understand and maintain the impetus for this strategy. Attending offers you the chance to network with other delegates and speakers. Anything you gain can be included in your CPD portfolio although please note, certificates of attendance will not be provided.

Who should attend?

This event is aimed at all safety and health professionals, company directors, managers and supervisors, as well as HR professionals.

The South Wales Safety Group Alliance

Along with the South Wales Branch, members of the Alliance include the Wales Branch IIRSM (www.iirsm.org), Cardiff and East Wales Occupational Health and Safety Group (<https://sites.google.com/site/csewohsg>), South Wales Construction Safety Group (www.constructionsafetygroup.org) and the South and West Wales Safety Group (www.swwwsafetygroup.co.uk).

We are probably the first area in the UK, where groups have worked together to such good effect. Our strategic aim is to improve safety, health and wellbeing of all employees and others in the area. Taking a holistic approach, we believe that together we are stronger and better able to make a difference.

What you need to know

The conference exhibition is a great feature, where local and national safety related businesses show us their wares. This includes a prize draw on the day. One year a lucky winner won a circuit drive in a Lamborghini!

The fee includes a delegate pack, lunch and refreshments. There is ample free car parking at the stadium.
