MONTHLY MEETING

How to be Successful Entering A Safety Award

Entering a Safety Award can be both challenging and time consuming, yet it is important to remember you enter an Award with the intention of winning.

The NISO/NISG All Ireland Safety Awards (established in 1995) have grown to become Ireland's premier safety awards.

Not only do they benchmark you against others in your sector but also allow you to audit your safety management systems by way of quantifiable evidence gathering.

This meeting will not only give you details on how to construct a successful entry but a helpful framework if you enter other Awards.

Areas being covered:-

- The benefits of entering an Award
- How to prepare a submission
- The rationale behind the different sections
- Common shortcomings in an Award entry
- The importance of feedback (post entry)
- The breakdown of Award categories/marketing structure
- Key dates

SPEAKER: Nicola McCracken and other previous Award winners.
