

Northern Ireland
Safety Group
Promoting Occupational Safety & Health

Webinar

COVID-19 better together/it's good to share

- H & S in the food processing sector during and post pandemic

The last six months have presented challenges to us all and not least in the food processing sector. Many of us have risen to the challenge to ensure we deliver food product to meet consumer demand.

But handling COVID-19 is a marathon and not a sprint, and the finish line isn't in sight. We at NI Safety Group felt that now might be the time to get food processors together to:-

- Listen to examples of good practice
- Share experiences and learn from each other
- Share problems etc.

The explosion of video conferencing has now made this possible and to that end we've set up a webinar to facilitate the sector in sharing experiences and supporting each other.

We'd like to encourage as much interaction as possible, so do feel free to email in questions beforehand and we'll ensure that they are answered either by the speakers or in breakout groups.

Email your questions to:

info@nisg.org.uk

SPEAKERS: Tom Stephenson, Head of Group Health and Safety, Lakeland Dairies

Richard Barnes, Group H,S &E Manager, Finnebrogue

VENUE: Online

DATE: Tuesday 29th September

TIME: 2.15 for 2.30p.m.

REGISTER YOUR INTEREST AT THE LINK BELOW.

**REGISTER HERE**

Once you register your place will be held for you.

- A web link (Zoom) will be provided on the morning of the Webinar with instructions on how to join.
- Please do not share this link with others as their email will not be recognised and they will not obtain access.
- Please ensure that the email you use to register is the one that you will be using to view the webinar.

This webinar is free to attend