Continuous Improvement in a Covid-19 World

The pandemic has brought about unprecedented concerns, risks and opportunities for most businesses, no more so than for Arco Ltd. who were at the forefront in trying to source and supply PPE for critical workers.

Their Safety, Health and Environment Department became an integral part of their Business Continuity Plan deciphering the Government's Guidance and advising all areas of the business in keeping colleagues safe and critical sites open.

Now as we enter new ways of working and learn to live with controlling the Coronavirus, Jo Heselton (Group SHE Manager) and Nick Cooke (Senior SHE Specialist) are going to share with us their insight and expertise on working through and post COVID.

Listen and gain from their experience in the following areas:

- Multi country working– different countries and different laws
- Multi-site working – their stores, teams, logistics and head office challenges
- Comms – internal / external
- Engagement of their people
- Challenges
- Successes
- Learning outcomes
